Comment [vU8]: There are a lot of rules to follow for Roberts rules of order. How strict are we with these rules, where and when are they specifically applied in our meetings? Here it says..."as amended" which ones are we using? Here is a list I found: http://www.robertsrules.org/

Guidelines

•Obtain the floor (the right to speak) by being the first to stand when the person speaking has finished; state Mr./Madam Chairman. Raising your hand means nothing, and standing while another has the floor is out of order! Must be recognized by the Chair before speaking!
•Debate can not begin until the Chair has stated the motion or resolution and asked "are you ready for the question?" If no one rises, the chair calls for the vote!
•Before the motion is stated by the Chair (the question) members may suggest modification of the motion; the mover can modify as he pleases, or even withdraw the motion without consent of the seconder; if mover modifies, the seconder can withdraw the second.
•The "immediately pending question" is the last question stated by the Chair! Motion/Resolution - Amendment - Motion to Postpone
•The member moving the "immediately pending question" is entitled to preference to the floor! No member can speak twice to the same issue until everyone else wishing to speak has spoken to it once!
•All remarks must be directed to the Chair! Remarks must be courteous in language and deportment - avoid all personalities, never allude to others by name or to motives!
•The agenda and all committee reports are merely recommendations! When presented to the assembly and the question is stated, debate begins and changes occur!

The Rules

•Point of Privilege: Pertains to noise, personal comfort, etc. - may interrupt only if necessary!
•Parliamentary Inquiry: Inquire as to the correct motion - to accomplish a desired result, or raise a point of order
•Point of Information: Generally applies to information desired from the speaker: "I should like to ask the (speaker) a question."
•Orders of the Day (Agenda): A call to adhere to the agenda (a deviation from the agenda requires Suspending the Rules)
•Point of Order: Infracion of the rules, or improper decorum in speaking. Must be raised immediately after the error is made

Comment [vU9]: Could we have an example of what this would look like?

Comment [vU10]: Are these two different things? For instance, I am on the Celebrate committee and other such committees, but if the Arts Commission wants to create a committee to focus specifically on Shakespeare in the Park would that be a good example of creating a committee vs serving on a committee outside of the commission as the second sentence implies?
Any Arts Commissioner has a right to express personal views and opinions pursuant to our Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech. An individual member is free to voice a position, oral or written, on any issue as long as it is made clear that the member is not speaking as a representative of the City, or as a member of the Arts Commission.

ARTICLE VIII: Amendments

These Bylaws may be amended at any regular meeting by majority vote provided the proposed amendment(s) has been presented in writing and that a quorum is present.

Comment [vU11]: I wonder if we should bring up decorum or if that is implied in the Robert’s Rules and we can make sure to incorporate that into our meetings. Wondering if we should consider a clause in this article that helps direct tone and keep conversation congenial and productive.

Comment [SO12]: Is there a concern that 30-days notices needs to be retained?
